Art Unit: 1794

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1,3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palmqvist et al (6,333,100) or Lindskog et al (6,299,992) in view of Ishii et al (5,972,495) or Ljungberg (5,851,687).

The rejection is maintained for reasons of record in the previous office action dated 5/20/09. Applicant's arguments filed 8/10/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that the inherent feature has not been proven to be necessarily present in the primary references. Producing curvature is not a sufficient factual basis to conclude the claimed roughness. The applicant is correct, but the examiner is relying on the honing which does produce the claimed roughness (see JP 2003-094230) and thus the rejection stands.

3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Palmqvist et al (6,333,100) or Lindskog et al (6,299,992) in view of Ishii et al (5,972,495) or Ljungberg (5,851,687) and in further view of Moriguchi et al (5,597,272) or Kyocera (JP 05-057507) or Sumitomo (JP 2003-094230).

The rejection is maintained for reasons of record in the previous office action dated 5/20/09. Applicant's arguments filed 8/10/09 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that the claimed invention would not result even if the proposed references are combined, but provides no further support for this position and thus the rejection stands.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
